Copying a remote control?

You have already programmed a remote control according to your preferences. Now, you can simply copy or duplicate this remote control.

» Copying a remote control to have two remote controls with the same functions.

It works very simply like this:

On the old (programmed) remote control, hold down the red "ON" button and on the new (unprogrammed) remote control, hold down the white "S" button simultaneously for at least 6 seconds.

» Then the LED (located above the blue button) blinks 3 times = Done!

Now both remote controls are programmed the same, and you can use both remote controls without having to program the second one as well.
